2017 ATP No.1 Rafael Nadal

ATP WELCOME

As the 2018 ATP World Tour season gets underway, a host of fascinating storylines look set to play out over the next 11 months. The world's best players will compete across 64 ATP World Tour tournaments, in addition to the four Grand Slams, in their quest for prestigious titles, coveted ATP Rankings points, and the ultimate crown of finishing the season as the year-end ATP World No.1.

Men's professional tennis has a remarkable ability to produce some of the most compelling storylines across all sport, and this was certainly evident as we look back on the 2017 season.

Few could have predicted the extraordinary resurgence of Rafael Nadal and Roger Federer at the top of the game last year. The 2017 season will also be remembered for breakthrough performances from the likes of Alexander Zverev, who captured ATP World Tour Masters 1000 titles in Rome and Montreal, and Grigor Dimitrov, who backed up his maiden Masters 1000 title in Cincinnati with the biggest title of his career at the Nitto ATP Finals in London to finish the season at a career-high No. 3.

Our season finale at The O2 provided a spectacular finish to a season that saw more fans come out to watch ATP World Tour tennis than ever before, with more than 4.5 million fans on-site.

There is much to look forward to in 2018. The Tour is at a fascinating cross-road, with established superstars such as Nadal and Federer still at the top of the game, yet facing an increasingly strong challenge from a younger generation, led by the likes of Zverev and Nick Kyrgios. The 2018 season will also see the highly-anticipated return of a handful of players returning from injury lay-offs, including Novak Djokovic, Andy Murray, Stan Wawrinka, Milos Raonic and Kei Nishikori.

The season will culminate once again at the Nitto ATP Finals in London in November. Since moving to The O2 in 2009, the tournament has been on a record-breaking run, with more than 2.3 million fans coming to watch the very best the game has to offer.

November will also see the return of the Next Gen ATP Finals in Milan, where the world's best 21-and-Under players of the year will compete on a global stage, as we continue to use the event as a platform to trial rule changes and innovation.

May I take this opportunity to invite you to join us on what we expect to be a thrilling journey in 2018. This Media Guide offers a wealth of information on the tournaments and players who will showcase the game around the world, and we thank you for your coverage and support of men's professional tennis.

Best wishes,

Chris Kermode

ATP WORLD TOUR TIMELINE

The ATP is in its fifth decade as a leading governing body in professional tennis. The organisation was formed in 1972 when a handful of the game's top players met in a secluded stairwell at the US Open to discuss the need for a players' association. Under the leadership of newly elected executive director Jack Kramer and president Cliff Drysdale, the Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP) came to life with a goal of changing the game for the better.

THE FOLLOWING IS A LOOK BACK AT KEY ATP EVENTS OVER THE PAST FIVE DECADES:

1973: The ATP establishes the computer ranking system, providing a fair analysis of a player's performance and creating an objective way to determine entries into tournaments.

1974: The Men's International Professional Tennis Council (MIPTC), made up of ATP, ILTF and tournament directors, is formed to govern the sport as an "independent, democratic, international body for the administration of professional tennis".

1976: The ATP Doubles computer rankings begin on 1 March.

1980: The ATP sets up a player pension fund.

1985: At the request of the ATP, MIPTC passes a Drug Testing Rule, making tennis the first professional sport to institute a workable and well-designed drug testing programme.

1986: In an effort to make the calendar more coherent, the MIPTC moves the Australian Open a month back to January (1987) and The Masters a month earlier to December (1986).

1988: The players, under ATP CEO Hamilton Jordan, hold a press conference in the US Open parking lot to announce that they will assume more control of the game. "Tennis at the Crossroads" outlines a plan for players to form a new tour. Tournament directors representing many of the world's leading events voice their support for the players and join them in what was to become a partnership unique in professional sports – players and tournaments each with an equal voice in how the circuit is run.

1990: Sponsored by IBM, the ATP Tour era begins with an equal partnership between players and tournaments. The circuit features 76 tournaments in 28 countries on six continents, with prize money averaging a 50% increase at the events. Indianapolis tournament director Mark Miles is named ATP CEO.

1993: The ATP Tour extends its global reach, adding Arabian Gulf tournaments in Doha and Dubai.

1995: The ATP Tour launches its first ATP web site, ATP Online.

1996: The Mercedes-Benz/ATP partnership begins with a four-year agreement.

1997: The ATP Senior Tour of Champions is sanctioned.

1998: Players form a new STARS program as the ATP Tour helps make players more accessible to media, sponsors and fans. ATP broadcasts extend their reach to more than 200 countries.

2000: The ATP Tour changes its name to ATP for 2001, introduces a new logo and rebrands its nine premier tournaments the Tennis Masters Series.

2005: Etienne de Villiers is named ATP Chairman in June. The year-end Tennis Masters Cup is held in Shanghai.

2007: The ATP introduces a number of changes to the Tour, including the elimination of best-of-5 set finals, as well as reduced draw sizes at five ATP Masters Series events to lessen the physical demands on top players and enhance TV scheduling. The ATP also increases prize money for the first time since 2000 and creates a new multi-million dollar marketing fund.

2008: All worldwide tennis organisations (WTA, ITF, ATP & Grand Slams) form a Tennis Integrity Unit.

2009: Adam Helfant takes over as ATP Executive Chairman and President in January. Three new tournament categories are introduced as the circuit is rebranded ATP World Tour: Masters 1000, 500 and 250 level events. The ATP's season finale takes place at The O2 in London for the first time.

2012: Brad Drewett takes over as ATP Executive Chairman & President in January.

2013: Brad Drewett passes away in May from Motor Neurone Disease. In the preceding 12 months, he had led discussions resulting in significant prize money increases for all players across all Grand Slams.

2014: Chris Kermode takes over as ATP Executive Chairman and President on 1 January. The ATP's season finale sets a new attendance record of 263,560 – the biggest in its 48-year history.

2015: The ATP secures an enhanced partnership with Emirates that sees the award-winning airline become the Tour's Premier Partner through 2020.

2017: The inaugural Next Gen ATP Finals take place in Milan, showcasing the world's best 21-and-Under players in a new and innovative format. The ATP World Tour achieves an all-time attendance record with more than 4.5 million fans attending on-site.
